Conditions of approval:

According to the NHMRC National Statement on Ethical Conduct in Human Research (2007):

- You must submit an annual report within 12 months of the approval date of your protocol and every 12 months thereafter until the protocol is closed/completed. Reporting periods depend on the level of risk and the length of the project and may be requested more frequently
- If you need to make any changes to your protocol during the course of your research, you must notify the committee of the proposed changes through the submission of an amendment. All amendments must be approved before the changes to the proposed work can commence.
- If you receive any complaints about the research work or if any unforeseen events occur that might affect continued ethical acceptability of the research work you must submit a Complaint/Event notification to the Committee through the REMS system.
- If the project finishes before the expiry date, please submit and annual/Expiry report in the REMS system to notify the Ethics Office so the record can be closed.
- You must notify ANU of the closure or transfer of your protocol prior to the end of your employment or enrollment with the University.
- The validity of the current approval is five years' maximum from the approval date. For longer projects you are required to seek renewed approval from the Committee to extend or renew a project.
